Job search coaching

In job search coaching, you get support for finding a suitable job or education. You will get a dedicated job coach who encourages you, helps you through the different stages of your job search and employment, and accompanies you on your journey. Working together is based on trust.

Coaching is right for you if you feel that these will help you:

- clarifying possible career options
- looking together for suitable employment or training opportunities
- applying for jobs and training opportunities
- writing interesting job applications
- creating an attractive CV
- developing workplace skills and competences

In addition:

- mapping your own competences
- information on job and training options
- skills passport and qualification card training

Duration of the service:

Starting month + five months
